

Your Warm Body

(Roselle O'Brien)

I am here
All down the days
No one and no one
No one warm body
To take me away
Where have you been
What is the risk
All of you, all of me
Your warm body
I think I'm falling
In you, in me
Warming and warmer
Your warm body

Life is a test
All down the days
While you're wishing for someone
Some one warm body
To take you away
Should I hold you
Your hands are strong
The shade of a smile
Your blue eyes
And I think I'm falling
In you, in me
Warming and warmer
Your warm body

Well, I think I'm falling
Where have you been
All of you, all of me
And your warm body
I think I'm falling
And what is the risk
Warming and warmer
Your warm body
I watch and I'm waiting
For your warm body
And the shape of my fate

All down the days
All down the days....
